

Testosterone Precursors Sublingual or Topical

This particular product is sold in two forms. It concentrates on the precursors of testosterone which are androstenediol, androstenedione, their nor-cousins and the supporting hormones DHEA, pregnenolone and progesterone.

The first product mentioned is called AndroSpray® (which can provide short bursts of testosterone increase).

The second product mentioned is called ProSportsCreme® (formerly known as ProMale®), which can help provide long-term testosterone improvement via its transdermal delivery.

After reading all of this section, you will understand that the combination of the two will provide the maximum anti-aging performance.

"I was amazed at the difference a few sprays of AndroSpray made to me, within the hour I felt brighter, alert, had more energy, even colors seemed stronger." T.B., Illinois

"Your protocol of testosterone precursors work! Within a few days I could feel and begin to see the difference it makes." A.B., Texas.
